

Funded by the European Union

Kickoff “COVID-19 Actions Taken Review”

Protecting and empowering COVID-19 frontline health workers: how are we doing it?

Virtual Workshop

Objectives

- Share critical aspects of healthcare workers' matters in terms of personal protection, training and support to respond effectively to the COVID-19 pandemic
- Provide feedback on the distance learning module on “Novel Coronavirus (Sars-CoV-2) health emergency: Preparedness and Response”

Agenda (1° part)

12:10-12:30 (20min)	Keynote presentation The COVID-19 response Nigeria: putting health security on the agenda, and keeping it there.	Dr Chikwe Ihekweazu Director National Center for Disease Control and Prevention, Nigeria
12:30-12:45 (15min)	Discussion and feedback on the distance learning module on “Novel Coronavirus (Sars-CoV-2) health emergency: Preparedness and Response”	Introduction by ISS and contributions by the participants Moderator: ISS
12:45-12:55 (10min)	Prospective study on COVID-19 evaluation risk among the healthcare workers in charge of the first cases in Africa	Dr Ramatoulaye Hamidou Lazoumar Medical and Health Research Centre, Niger Principal investigator of the Study in Niger

Agenda (2° part)

12:55-14:25 (1h30min)	Thematic discussion: “Protecting and empowering COVID-19 frontline health workers: how are we doing it??”
12:55-13:40 (45min)	Session 1: “National COVID-19 training strategies, challenges and solutions” Discussion and contributions from other countries	Dr Lusine Paronyan, National Center for Disease Control and Prevention, Armenia Dr. Hanaa Abu Elsood Abd Elaziz Ghonim MOHP, Egypt Representatives from Ministry of Health and Institut Pasteur de Dakar, Senegal Moderator: ISS
13:40-14:25 (45min)	Session 2: “Strategies for the protection of healthcare personnel and patients and the role of primary care staff in the prevention and identification of cases during the COVID-19 pandemic, challenges and solutions” Discussion and contributions from other countries	Dr Lusine Paronyan, National Center for Disease Control and Prevention, Armenia Emanuela De Vivo, Medici con l’Africa Cuamm, Mozambique Representatives from Ministry of Health and Institut Pasteur de Dakar, Senegal Moderator: ISS